As horrific as it sounds, criminals often target families who have recently lost a loved one. There are numerous cases where scams and swindles are perpetrated against trusting people during these emotional times. Unfortunately, there are also many cases of property crimes being committed at the homes of families attending services for deceased loved ones.

The North Fond du Lac Police Department is taking part in a collaborative effort of the Wisconsin Chiefs of Police Association and Wisconsin Funeral Directors Association to help individuals "Avoid Being the Victim of a Crime During Your Time of Grief." That's the title of a crime prevention informational brochure being offered as a public service with the goal of informing those who have recently lost a loved one of very unfortunate events that continue to occur across the country. It is designed to help reduce the chances of those families becoming the victims of a crime of opportunity.

Brochures are available at the North Fond du Lac Police Department or by contacting a North Fond du Lac police officer and requesting the information.
